

Intro Video

INSTRUCTIONS

Record an introduction of yourself giving us a sneak peek into who YOU are as a human! It's not that scary, I promise! Make sure you plan it out well. Writing a script in advance will help prepare yourself to talk smoothly and comprehensively. However, don't look at the paper while recording yourself, act au natural. Practice a couple of times so you can speak naturally, just like you would if you were in-person and introducing yourself.

SHOW US YOUR PERSONALITY + WHAT MAKES YOU YOU!

It should show us who you are as a person - you can make it whatever you want it to be, there is no particular structure you must follow. Think "if I were making a video about myself that I would want to go viral on TikTok, what would I do?" (y'all know I love a TikTok reference). If it were me, I would for sure be using a TikTok method to introduce myself, but that is part of my personality and I LOVE creating things. But I may follow a script something like:

Hi! My name is Ms. K but my friends call me Kassy (with a K and a Y - I have never found a souvenir with my name on it) and my nephews call me Auntie KK. I just got a puppy named Latti and she is the cutest dog in America and has been the best decision I have ever made. I LOVE LEARNING ABOUT EVERYTHING and lately have been learning about calligraphy and woodworking (through a series I am calling Unsupervised DIY With KK) and dream of one day owning a little brick + mortar shop full of hand-lettered designs, heirlooms, and stationery in an old historic building in a sweet little downtown. Building community is my jam, and I love learning about new methods, stories, and ways of connecting humans together. My special skills include: getting knots out of necklace chains, folding fitted sheets, and losing my debit card (I am REALLY good at this). I am fascinated by the world, singing in a choir gives me a thrill that nothing else can, and the Family of Flight members past and present is one of my most treasured and cherished gifts.
